Margaret —
So a very sweet & cute girl.
I've enjoyed being in the same Lunch class with you. Best of luck — Come see me this summer. Cindy

Be young
Be foolish
Be happy

Margaret,
you're really a great girl. Keep that wonderful personality.
Be good this summer.
Love ya,
Jerry

Margaret,
Remember those
"hot" walks home.
See you next year.

Margaret,
I enjoyed meeting such a sweet, quiet girl!
I hope you had a nice
year at F.H.S.
Woodward!

Glen R.

Margaret,
I've had a lot of fun
this year + I'm glad I've gotten to know you. Hope you can be better friends. You're just down the street so come see me often. Best of luck always.
Gail R.

Margaret,
We've really had a great time
at those P.T. parties.
You never talked but when you did, much we've enjoyed having you in my classes this year. Good luck in the future & try to behave this summer. Come see me when you can.
Love,
Donna
P.S. - Keep up the good driving!

Margaret,
Be good this summer.
And stay sweet.
Dion

To a smart Chemistry student you stinky you! (just kidding!) Be sweet as ever and keep your great personality!
Love 'ya,

Introduction

"We are born at a given moment, in a given place, and, like vintage years of wine, we have the qualities of the year and of the season in which we are born. Astrology does not lay claim to anything more."

—C. G. Jung

The student body of Franklin High School has grown continuously through the years. We were born many years ago in a given place—Franklin, Virginia. Through the years we have progressed until now we live in the "Age of Aquarius." The Zodiac is the sign of our times. We work hard, strive for the best, participate strongly in sports as well as encourage good sportsmanship. These examples are very indicative of our times.

In a similar manner we may associate ourselves with the zodiac. The workers and teachers are associated with the sign Sagittarius, the wise, tried and true individual; our athletic department is associated with Leo, the hard-working, ever striving for perfection type of individual. Classes definitely coincide with Cancer, as under this sign one seeks the new yet returns to the old. A final example would be student life. Definitely, this area would fall under the sign of Gemini whose keynote is adaptability, versatility, and friendliness — all integral parts of the student life at Franklin High School.

We have acquired the qualities of our times, and as the years proceed, we shall evolve into still other times and phases; but as for now the Zodiac is the sign of our time, and we do not lay claim to anything more!

Margaret,
So a real sweet girl, always remember our "shower"
during in P.E. and come to see me this summer.
Love ya,
Marg

Reflections of Ourselves

Mr. Bronco and Miss Spirit are joined in marriage in a F.H.S. pep rally.

Mr. Lucas, what did you see in the girl's locker room?

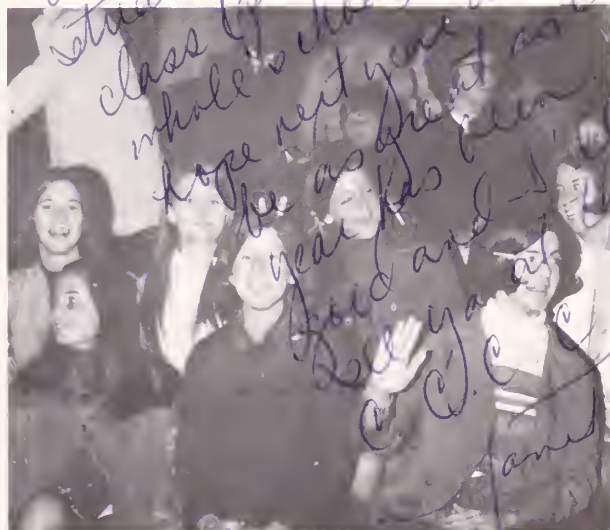

Things go better with coke, right, Mrs. Gay?

That's O.K., Sion, we can't all be tall.

The Varsity cheerleaders work hard to perfect a pom-pom routine for the football game.

Sophomores have HAMMER power, right, girls?

Social Studies And Languages

This World Geography test must not suit your tastes, Jim H. and Nancy K.

Miss Eubank answers Tom's question on current events in Government class.

These students learn more about the political, economical, and social changes of their country as they study U.S. History.

Prompt The Age Of Communication

Mr. Vess helps this French II student better understand the written part of this foreign language.

David and Connie seem busy translating a Latin text, more than likely concerning Julius Caesar.

Through public speaking, as in the form of debate above, one learns to feel at ease when speaking before a mass of people.

Age Of Technology

Algebra II students solve more involved equations after they learn the basics in Algebra I.

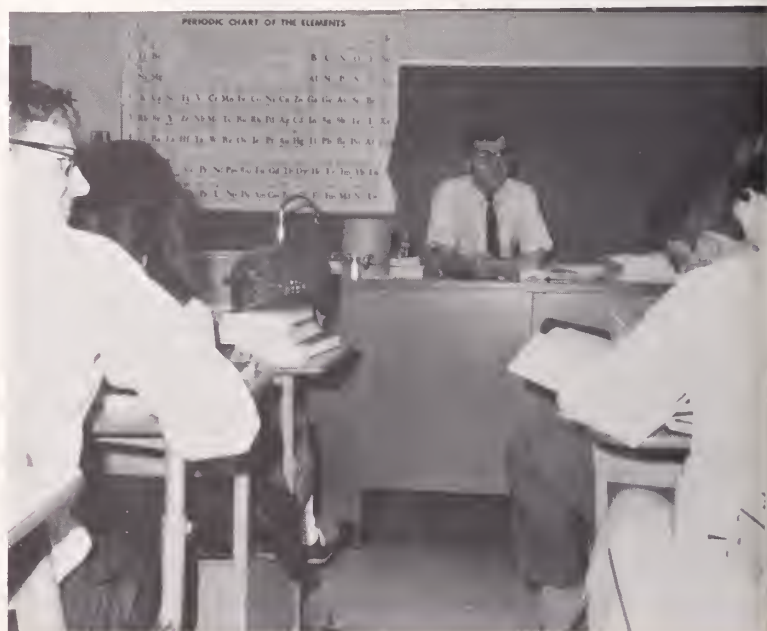

Ben explains how he solved this Trigonometry problem.

Chemistry students apply acquired knowledge when conducting lab experiments.

Today mathematics and science have become very important factors in the age of technology. Mathematics teaches one to develop skill and accuracy in thinking and helps one resolve problems both logically and correctly. In this space age, mathematics has become very important; and our students are receiving a good background for the future in this field.

Science goes hand in hand with mathematics, we are our nation's future chemists, physicists, and Einsteins; but only through our studies of the sciences of the universe can we contribute our part to the world.

Mr. Lucas pauses a moment to smile into the camera before continuing his Physics lecture.

Physical Education Cultivates Good Sportsmanship

A bully is begun to start a new game of field hockey.

Physical Education produces a sound mind and a sound body, when exercised in an active and regular program. This is exactly what the physical education department at Franklin High School does, by instilling good sportsmanship and team spirit, by encouraging sound mental and physical health habits, and by providing stimulating recreation and fun to all of its students.

Although only three years of physical education are necessary for a student to graduate, many who become interested in individual and team sports continue in this training to further their own interests and skills.

In gym class itself, many activities are included, such as: football, basketball, volleyball, speedball and field hockey in the fall and early winter; accompanied by gymnastics and softball in later winter and early spring.

Besides active participation and physical exertion, much time is devoted to classroom training in such subjects as health and proper hygiene, which can be applied in later life in order to better one's self. The student learns that not only exercise, but also a regular diet of nutritional foods as well as rest are necessary to keep the body functioning properly so that it produces at its best. First aid, sex education, and driver's education are other courses taught.

All these ingredients together form our department here at Franklin High School which produces many mature and responsible young men and women who will continue to succeed in life as well-developed, versatile individuals.

One-one, two-two, that's right boys, just forty-eight more jumping jacks to do and then we'll run laps.

The boys of fifth period gym class are actively involved in a close game of speedball.

Appreciation Studies Are

We are proud of our band at Franklin High School. It practices long and hard to perform at football games and to present concerts during the school year.

Mr. Barton, our music director goes over a sheet of music with the chorus students. He often helps the students individually as they continually strive for perfection.

Our Signs Of Expression

Jan S. and Penny B. are two students who are using the benefits of our high school library. Many students do not realize how helpful the library can be to them. There are many good books and plentiful supplies of reference materials waiting to be used.

Many varied phases of art work are carried on in our art lab. Above Miss McBride helps a student in making his drawing accurate and in the right proportions.

Business And Vocational

Mrs. Felts teaches these students the basics of General Business before they enter the business world.

Rita demonstrates the skills she has learned in short hand from Mrs. Smith.

These Typing I students are busily engrossed in a time writing, a must to insure speed and accuracy in typing.

Education Constitutes The

Girls in this Home Economics class practice cooking different things. Many of these young ladies will be the Betty Crockers of tomorrow.

One of the many things the girls learn in this class is how to set a table properly. Above, these girls are serving Mrs. Petty a breakfast that they prepared earlier.

Age Of Enterprise

Mechanical Drawing is a relatively new course included in Franklin's curriculum, above Mr. Terry helps Ben make his measurements accurate and precise.

The Industrial Arts class is very inventive when it comes to working with one's hands. Students in this class often assist the school by constructing tables, stools, and lecterns for the English classes.

The Office Staff

Mr. Davis looks over some very important papers concerning school.

To keep a school running smoothly and efficiently all the time takes a united effort on the part of many people. Mr. Davis, Mr. Lassiter, and Mrs. Hundley work together in just such a way. Mr. Davis and Mr. Lassiter must make some very important decisions concerning the school, and we must depend on them to guide us and help us to become more responsible adults. Mrs. Hundley is also a very valuable asset. Without her, who would students tell their problems to, and who would guide us in making the right decisions about our future? Yes, all three are very vital elements in a structural unit at Franklin High School. We need these people, and we appreciate all the things that they do for us.

Mr. Lassiter takes a little time from staying behind his desk at school to chat with some of the students in the library.

Mrs. Hundley helps Taylor decide which college is best for him.

And Helpers

Mrs. Davis types some reports for Mrs. Hundley.

Donna helps Mrs. Rawls by sorting out the absentee cards.

Another vital part of the office staff that many people tend to overlook concerns those that do all the busy work. Mrs. Rawls is the school secretary; helping her at times are the office aides. These are students that are willing to relinquish their study halls in order to help out in the office in any way they can. Sometimes the office gets a bit hectic, as do all things at one time or another, and these girls help out tremendously. There are absentees to be filed, reports to be typed, stencils to be run off, mail to be sorted, items to be filed and many other things that must be done in the office. All these things are done by Mrs. Rawls and never with any complaint.

Mrs. Rawls has a busy job keeping the school books and records up to date

Custodial And Cafeteria Staffs

George Lee lends a hand to a storage problem.

Fourteen hours a day is average worktime for our custodial staff.

For long hours after everyone else leaves, the custodial staff works diligently to maintain the pleasing appearance of our school. The windows are kept sparkling, the floors are kept clean and shiny, and the blackboards are washed. The student body owes much gratitude to the hard working custodians.

The pleasant faces of our cafeteria staff help make our lunches more enjoyable.

The cafeteria staff is in charge of providing nourishing meals for the students. Each day two lunches are prepared, the class A plate and an alternate, under the capable supervision of Mrs. Cox, our dietitian. These delicious hot lunches help fortify the students for the rest of the day. We are fortunate to have such a fine team of workers.

School And Community Function Together

Mr. Hinson Parker leads a song at our Veteran's Day Assembly.

Parents and teachers enjoy getting together at an Open-house meeting

Community affairs play an important role in the school. Such affairs include the PTA programs, the annual sports banquets, and Veteran's Day assembly. There are courses taught at Franklin High School two nights a week for adults, as well as for students interested in adding to their educational skills. Such activities bring a close relationship between school and community.

Night classes help community members learn new skills and reclaim old ones.

An after-dinner speaker puts the necessary finishing touch to a football banquet.

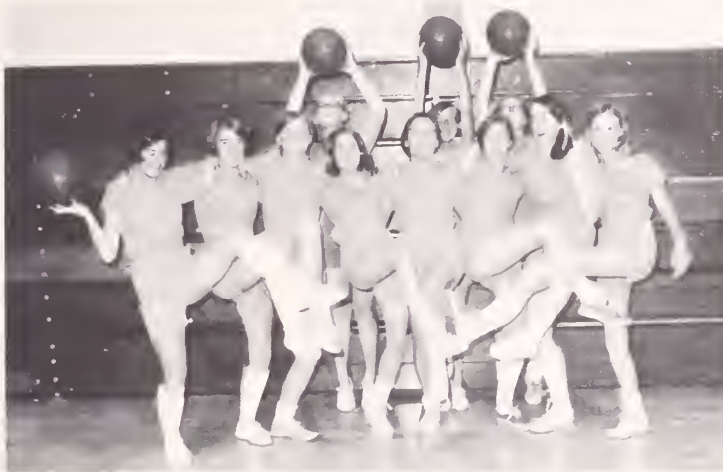

Character Candida

Mrs. Gay and Irma Turner enjoy a private joke.

Marge Whitley shows what an aggressive attitude should really be.

A tenth grade gym class shows its perfect form.

Peter Pearson demonstrates the mathematics behind Tic-Tac-Toe.

Juniors ask which stone is really the prettier.

Clubs Help Teach Responsibility

Through their work with the school newspaper and the annual, budding journalists learn what it means to strive to meet dead-lines. They also learn how to develop a sense of discernment between the important and the trivial, and are inspired to sharpen their creative instincts.

Mr. Vess offers assistance to Sidney Dodson and Candy Beaman in picture choice and lay-out for THE LOG.

A happy group of newspaper staff members review the newest edition of THE BRONCO BULLETIN.

THE LOG has as one of its goals the faithful recording of the events of the year through pictures and copy. Published by a representative section of the student body, it teaches economics, cooperation, writing, leadership, and effective use of leisure time. Needless to say, it also gives a great sense of accomplishment and pleasure.

Pat Watson and Nancy Underwood sort pictures for a page of candid shots for THE LOG.

And Foster Cooperation

Members of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y assist at the registration table for their conference.

The Tri-Hi-Y is affiliated with the YWCA of Franklin. Involved in varied projects, the Tri-Hi-Y has aided both school and community. Along with the Hi-Y, the Tri-Hi-Y was host to an area Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Conference held here at Franklin High School which proved both beneficial and enjoyable to all who attended.

Beaver Kannan serves as coordinator for the conference program.

Two Pep Club Members decorate the hall with a spirit sign.

The Pep Club promotes spirit for our school the year round. Posters are displayed in the halls before football and basketball games, raising the morale of all. Goal posts are decorated at the football fields before each home game. During basketball season large signs are placed in the gymnasium. At all sports competitions, the members of the Pep Club sit together, thus showing their group enthusiasm for the Broncos.

Varied Activities Add

Dell Young demonstrates some of the fundamentals of Algebra.

The Drama Club, under the supervision of Mr. Clark was newly formed this year. Among their goals are a fostering of the Thespian Spirit, a heightening of the dramatic sense, and encouragement of the art of communication. Two of their plays were presented in neighboring communities.

Mr. Clark shows students how to use a tape recorder effectively.

The Library Club, consisting of students interested in all phases of library work, has had quite a busy year. Mrs. Gadberry is assisted at some time by all members of the club. These students are active in the library during their study halls, lunch periods and after school. By working in the library, techniques and functions in maintaining a library are learned. Meeting once a month, the club engages in numerous activities, and are presented many interesting programs. At the beginning of the year, experienced members offered to teach incoming members all aspects of their library work. With an increasing number of members, the Library Club continues to offer much to students.

Dawn Hagan gives a report on good points in reading. Such programs are beneficial to all.

To Our Character Enrichment

The Future Homemakers of America is a very rewarding organization for girls in which they learn all aspects of home-making and are taught the full responsibilities of home living. Each morning an FHA member prepares coffee for the teachers' lounge. Refreshments are also provided at many school functions such as teas. Each year the FHA sponsors a teacher appreciation week in which various teachers are singled out for special kindness.

Danny Peak, Susan Lowe and Cynthia Johnson review the proceedings for good debate.

The FBLA is the Future Business Leaders of America. Centering around the world of business, the FBLA helps to train the members to become economic leaders. Throughout the year, the FBLA has had many interesting projects, such as the school supply store which is manned by members each morning before school. At Christmas a Home Extension speaker presented an interesting program on Christmas decorations.

Among other activities this year was a tour of the offices at Union-Camp Corporation, an interesting talk by Mrs. Romine Hundley on Business Education, and another program in which representatives from a nearby business school spoke.

Each year members attend the Regional Convention—this year being held at Old Dominion University in Norfolk—and the State Convention. At these meetings the members learn about parliamentary law, view various exhibits and participate in contests in such areas as spelling and essay writing.

The pleasant faces of Lucky Roncinske and Eddie Turner greet customers at the school store.

Cathy Lawrence and Betty Vaughan place coffee for teachers in the lounge before school.

The Debate Club was newly organized this year with Mrs. Iva Johnson as its sponsor. They learn the fundamentals of parliamentary procedure, the values of research and logical thought. This year they attended the Novice Debate Tournament in Williamsburg and acted as time-keepers.

And Lighten The Academic Load

Bobo Beacham and Trisha Rawls demonstrate their customer-attracting qualities at the Varsity Concession Stand.

The Varsity Club consists of students who have previously lettered in a varsity activity or sport. As a money project to help buy trophies or extra equipment for the sports program, club members operate a popcorn machine at all home football and basketball games. This project is augmented by the sale of soft drinks and candy at the basketball games. Also, at the basketball games members hold restraining ropes to keep spectators from walking on the court in street shoes during half-time and before and after the games. Cheerleaders are included in the Varsity Club as honorary members. As a mark of membership, each member purchases a Varsity jacket in the school colors of blue and gold.

The Interact Club, under the supervision of Mr. Rinehart, is a service organization of boys which strives to attain high moral and scholastic goals in the school and community. The boys are selected for membership on the bases character, leadership ability and scholarship. This year Dr. Gordon W. Birdsong has presented several programs pertaining to the medical field to the club, and Mrs. Romine Hundley has spoken on "Tips on How to Study". Later this spring a deep-sea fishing trip is planned.

The Quill and Scroll is an honor society consisting of Juniors and Seniors who have contributed to the field of journalism by participating in some aspect of the school publications. They must also be in the upper third of their classes scholastically. Each year the Quill and Scroll publishes "Literary Sallies", a collection of poems, compositions, essays, etc. contributed by various students who have special writing skills. This collection is illustrated with original drawings and is distributed to faculty members, members of Quill and Scroll and other interested people.

Trisha Rawls proofreads a page for "Literary Sallies."

The girls became the boys at the Powder Puff Game.

And the boys had a chance to show off their cheerleading form.

Jim Hart exemplifies the courtesy and consideration which eighth-graders learn are expected by students at FHS.

The SCA In Action

The Student Cooperative Association of Franklin High School strives to produce a harmonious relationship between teacher and student. When problems arise, the SCA is quick to act in order to resolve the differences.

The SCA sponsors many of the activities centered around school. The Homecoming dance was quite a big success this year as was "Rat Day", an event which proved to be full of hilarious moments. Late in the season a powder puff football game was held in which the girls became the football players, and the boys donned the cheerleading uniforms. Other activities included revision of the Dress Code through a committee of student and faculty members, and the establishment of a scholarship in memory of Wyatt B. Durette from funds gathered by the SCA.

Lou Council and Emily Bryant stroll around the floor to admire the decorations of the Homecoming dance.

Students Busy Doing

HAPPINESS is receiving class rings before Christmas.

Wipe that smirk off of your face Wendell, what have you two been up to?

Yes, yes, go on Wayne, finish what you were trying to say.

Students gaze into the school trophy case.

What's so funny Carolyn and Jan, by all means tell the rest of your friends they seem to be falling asleep.

You say you can't believe it, Joanie, well, it's true we're actually taking your picture.

Their Own Thing

We all know the joy of Being a rat on Rat Day.

Shame on you guys—calling your girlfriends during school!

Miss Vaughan collects money from people coming to see the basketball game.

Don't look so surprised Mrs. Rawls, you know we love you.

indy, are you just trying to look sophisticated, or did you not get y sleep last night?

What's the matter, Trisha?

SAGITTARIUS

Those born under the sign of Sagittarius are conservatives. They possess the ability of getting along with others. Still another characteristic of Sagittarius is law and order. Certainly the faculty and administration demonstrate these qualities. Each teacher comes in contact with many students during the day; each one has distinct characteristics. The teacher must be able to get along with his or her personalities if he is going to help each individual. There must be a good relationship between the faculty and students so that the students will have the desire to learn. This relationship is impossible unless there is law and order in the classroom. Also, the administration is respected as a law-making group.

Mrs. Petty's classes of General Science and Modern Biology are characteristic of her zodiac sign, Leo. These classes stimulate the students' interest in science. She exemplifies the energy of Leo as she sets up experiments, dissects animals, and takes field trips. Her ebullition is evident as she sponsors the Student Cooperative Association.

Comparable to the pride of Leo is the pride that Mr. Vess, teacher of French I, II, and III, takes in the well-equipped language lab. Nor can the energy of Leo surpass the energy of Mr. Vess as he meets the challenge of sponsor of the annual, working at the concession stand at football games, and prodding the staff to meet deadlines.

Mrs. Ruth T. Petty

Mr. H. Douglas Vess

Mrs. Annette Bowman

Mrs. Dorothy C. Beale

Mrs. Bowman is one of the five teachers in the English department at our high school. She teaches English I, II, and III, three of the five years one must have taken in order to graduate. This year, her second at Franklin High School, Mrs. Bowman is advisor to the Beta Club.

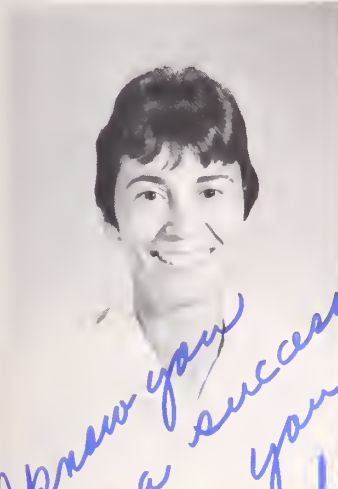

Several different history courses are offered at Franklin, and of these, Mrs. Beale teaches classes of U. S. history, world history, and U. S. government. She also sponsors the senior class.

Both of these teachers show they are true Cancerians, as it is the Sign of the Prophet or Teacher.

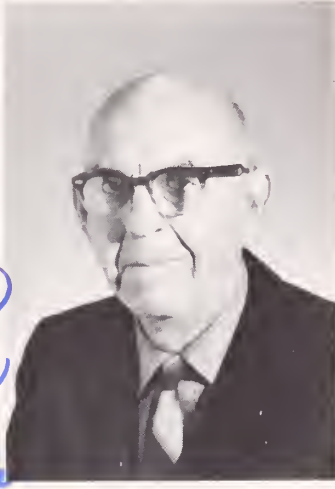

One of the many characteristics of a true sportsman is friendliness and the ability to get along with others. Mrs. Gay's amiable personality shows that she was born under the sign of Aquarius. She teaches the girls' physical education classes, coaches boys' and girls' tennis, and is sponsor of the Pep Club. Physical fitness is a necessity; one's body must be developed as well as his mind. Physical education classes are composed of classroom work and physical participation.

Mr. Durette is very typical of Gemini, the Sign of the Inventor. He has demonstrated his inventive genius in the work he has done for many Junior-Senior proms. He has done much for the Pep Club, and he works with the shop classes and the Industrial Arts department. Franklin High School would not be the same without Mr. Durette's interest and help in many fields.

Mrs. Ann E. Gay

Mr. W. B. Durette

Ann Gay*

It takes quite an enterprising person to keep classes busy criticizing books and other literary works, writing research themes, studying grammar, composing poetry, and participating in debates. In her ninth, eleventh, and twelfth grade English classes, Miss Vaughan challenges the enterprise of Aries.

The energy of Aries is found in Mr. Felts as he coaches junior varsity football and varsity baseball. In addition to teaching American history and helping Mrs. Gay in P.E. classes, he helps Mr. Pearce in physical education classes and behind the wheel driving classes in the summer.

Mr. F. W. Felts

Miss Rebecca M. Vaughan

The fate of these eight teachers lies in the path of the constellation, Libra, sign of the Statesman or Manager. A teacher must be both statesman and manager. Each one of these has one particular quality of Libra that stands out — alert, Mr. Barton; artistic, Mr. Clark; energetic, Mr. Pearce; resourceful, Mrs. Thorpe; dependable, Mrs. Smith; honorable, Miss Eubank; and intuitive, Mrs. Cotton.

Our chorus and band are under the direction of Mr. Barton, and he has much to be proud of, as these two groups always have received a great amount of commendation. Mrs. Cotton teaches Algebra I and II and Math I, and she sponsors the majorettes and the freshman class. One of the sponsors of the Future Business Leaders of America, Mrs. Smith, teaches bookkeeping, office procedure, shorthand, and typing. Mr. A. S. Rose, whose picture was not available, is also a Libra. He teaches French and English.

Teaching boys' physical education and behind-the-wheel driver education in the summer is Mr. Pearce. He coaches varsity basketball and helps with football coaching. Mrs. Thorpe, who is sponsor of the Bronco Bulletin staff and who helps advise the staff of the annual, teaches English III, IV, and V. She also sponsors the Quill and Scroll Club and the sophomore class. Mr. Clark, new this year to F.H.S., is an English teacher and also heads the Drama Club, a new club in its first year here. Miss Eubank teaches government and Latin, and sponsors the Tri-Hi-Y and the junior class.

Mr. Edwin Barton

Mrs. Elizabeth Cotton

Mrs. Mary Smith

Mr. Stephen Clark

Mrs. Doretha Sledge

Mr. Howard Mathews

A math teacher must be exact, and because Mrs. Sledge teaches Algebra I, Algebra II, and Math II, she shows she is a true Virgo, as this is a characteristic of this zodiac sign. She is also in her first year at Franklin High.

One quality of Taurus is kind-heartedness. All of Mr. Mathews' U.S. history, world geography, and world history students know that this applies to him. He also is head football coach, coach of the girls' basketball team, and coach of the track team.

Scorpio, sign of the Governor or Inspector, can be applied to Mrs. Gadberry, our librarian, as she keeps the library in tip-top order. A characteristic of this sign, being observant, exemplifies the fact that Mrs. Felts can always find an overlooked error in a typing paper. She also teaches general business and helps to sponsor the Future Business Leaders of America.

Having an artistic nature surely typifies the fact that Miss McBride was born under Scorpio, as she teaches all art classes at our school. She has a very adequate art lab to aide her with her teaching. Mr. Terry teaches industrial arts and mechanical drawing and helps with football coaching; and he must be determined in order to do this, another quality of the scorpion.

Mrs. Olive Gadberry

Mrs. Martha B. Felts

Miss Anita McBride

Mr. Herman Terry

Mrs. Beaton teaches all classes of Home Economics and is a natural choice for sponsorship of the Future Homemakers of America. Neatness and precision, characteristics of Capricorn, are taught to her classes by personal example.

Perseverance, another characteristic of Capricorn, is shown by Mr. Rinehart as he explains math problems to make sure his students can work them. He teaches trigonometry, Math I, and Algebra I, and coaches junior varsity football and baseball. He is also the sponsor of the Interact Club.

Mr. Gary L. Rinehart

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Ellington

You are a wonderful person and a fine student.
I know you will always ~~never~~ succeed.

see you next year.

Irvin Lucas

Mrs. Iva C. Johnson

Mr. Irvin Lucas

Teaching English, Mrs. Johnson is a true Pisces or Interpreter as she helps her students to examine and understand deep literary works. She also sponsors the Debate Club, which is new to F.H.S. this year, and the eighth grade class.

Mrs. Ellington, in her first year at our school, teaches Science I and Biology BSCS. The analytical mind that goes with a Pisces is certainly an asset to a science teacher.

All chemistry and physics classes are in the hands of Mr. Lucas. There is no doubt in students' minds that he is a very kind man, one of the attributes of Pisces. He is also the sponsor of the Hi-Y.

DEDICATION

In our reflections over the characteristics of the signs of the zodiac, we have selected one in Franklin High School who exemplifies the traits of Leo.

Because he has given freely of his time managing the concession stand at football games, ushering at basketball games, and decorating the armory for Junior-Senior Prom and Homecoming,

Because he has devoted his time and talents to the education of his students in French classes,

Because he has spent countless hours to do his best to publish a perfect annual,

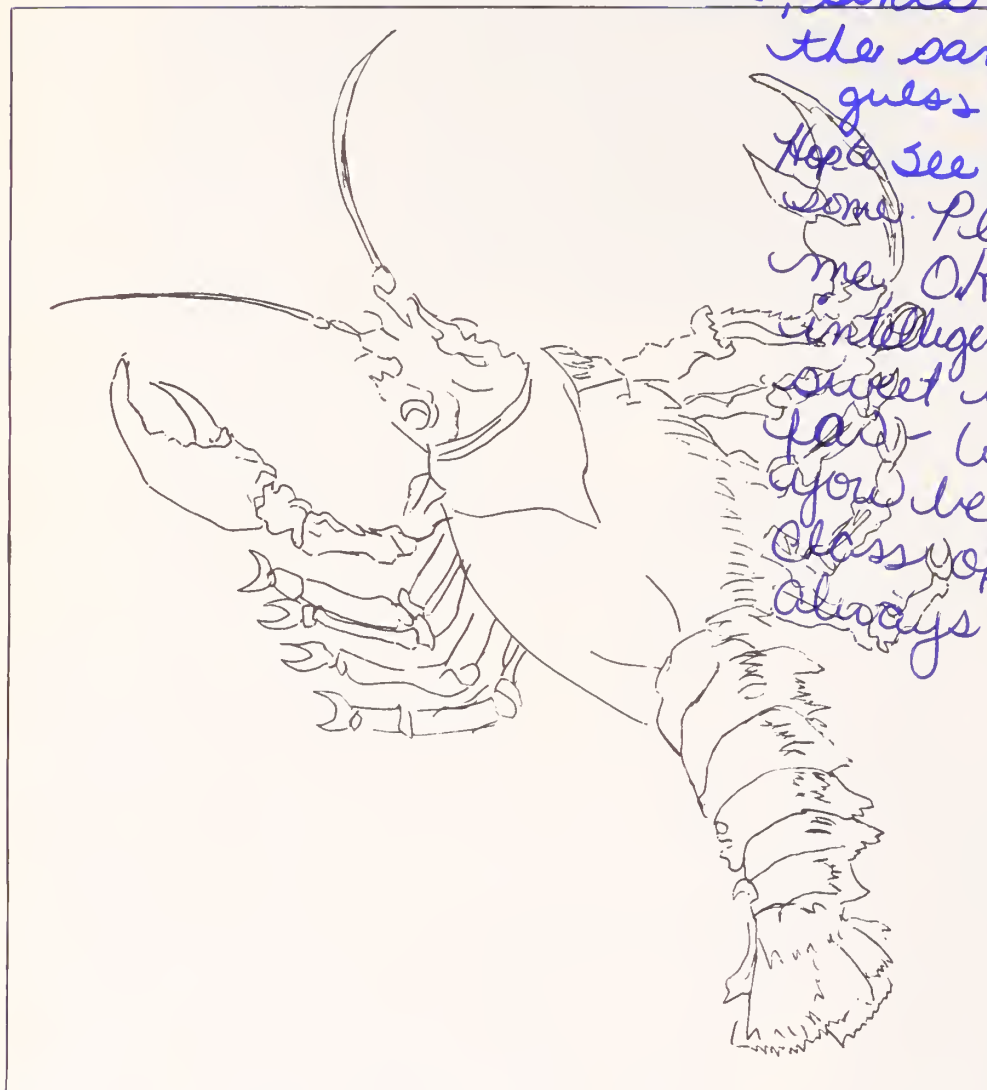

And because of his stamina in overcoming insurmountable obstacles, he has inspired students to obtain their goals, we dedicate the 1970 LOG to

MR. H. DOUGLAS VESS

Margaret,

At last I've found a page that somebody has signed on CANCER my sign of the Zodiac. Well, since we do have the same sign I guess we're compatible. Hope to see you this summer. Please come see me. OK? With your intelligence and shy, sweet way you'll go far - Work hard and you'll be #1 in the class of '72. A friend always

Love,
Pat

The characteristics of Cancer are closely related to those of the classes. Cancers form a shield about them to protect their extremely sensitive nature. The shield is cast off when growth occurs. During the time without their shell, Cancers are very vulnerable. This action could be related to the classes. As each year approaches, it brings with it changes. As a student grows, he must cast off his old shell and grow a new one. During the first few months of a new year, circumstances are different; a student is most vulnerable at this time. Each student grows as each new year approaches. The change in courses creates a challenge which each student must meet.

Margaret,
 At last I'm signing your annual! Thank heavens our Latin days are over! Geometry was a blast. &
 I enjoyed sitting CLASSES with all our talking! No more drive you crazy! It looks like this is the end of a P.E. ether! Behave this summer & stay sweet -

From step to step and from goal to goal, we have climbed to the apex of our scholastic cycle. This apex, though it bears the name Senior, still holds for us many of our former fears and anticipations. We relive the anxiety of athletic events, intellectual experiences, and long-awaited-for formal dances. But, as we move through this special year, we seem to be confronted with new and strangely exciting fears. The fears of newly found leadership and responsibility meet us at every turn, but the most important fear can only be that of independence. This independence has come after a very long wait and there is no ready way to prepare for it. We can only hope to utilize in some unforeseen way the gifts we have been given by our friends.

Each year various events take place. Homecoming, the Pine Bowl, and Rat Day are just a few of these events. Each requires students who will work hard and co-operate with one another and with faculty members. These people are typical of those born under the sign of Virgo, who exemplify harmony and order, necessary to carry out school events. Preparation for these events requires organization and preparation. It takes much time and effort to prepare for each one.

RAT DAY —

A Special Day For Seniors

"Push the penny" is one of the usual scenes on Rat Day.

"May I be your rat for the day?"

"I like being the center of attention!"

"Two hundred ninety-eight, two hundred ninety-nine . . ."

After the half-time ceremony, the queen and her attendants give us a happy smile.

TERESSA COTTON, F.H.S. Attendant

The 1969 Pinebowl

The 15th Annual Pine Bowl Game was held on September 26. This game was sponsored by the Franklin Lions Club in order to earn money to aid the blind. This year the queen was from Forest Glen High School; and Teresa Cotton, one of the attendants, was from Franklin High School. Both were chosen by their S.C.A. to represent their school.

Virginia Y.M.C.A. District Hi-Y Conference

Dr. H. I. Willett, Jr., President of Longwood College, was the guest speaker.

On November 8, 1969, Franklin High School was the host to the Eastern District Hi-Y Conference. Jewel Holt, president for the F.H.S. Tri-Hi-Y, presided. Elections were held for district officers and Model General Assembly officers.

Dr. Darden W. Jones, Mayor of Franklin welcomed Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members from the district.

Dr. Willett spoke on the theme "It's Our Turn—What Can We Do?" After a refreshment break, the students broke up into groups to discuss the theme. Finally the elected officers were announced and installed.

Members break up to go to their discussion groups.

The F.H.S. chorus welcomed their guests with three of their selections.

The 1969 Football Banquet

FROM LEFT TO RIGHT: Chet Martin, Outstanding Defensive Player; Peter Pearson, Outstanding Back; Coach Howard Mathews, Beaver Kannan, Most Valuable Player and Bronco Achievement Trophy; Randy Burgess, Outstanding Lineman.

The speaker for the night was Lou Holtz, head coach at the College of William and Mary.

Dr. Fred Ward presented the Bronco Achievement Trophy to Beaver Kannan.

The Seniors vs The Juniors

SENIOR "BABES"

The "Babe" defense attempts to push back the "Bunnies."

The "Babes" wait eagerly for their turn.

Seniors concentrate on the game.

At half-time, Queen Danny Drake, escorted by Donna Overton, is crowned.

in the POWDER PUFF GAME

JUNIOR "BUNNIES"

The defense carefully studies the action taking place.

"Huddle! Huddle!" yells the center.

The cheerleaders show some of their "sex-appeal."

The "Bunnies" are ready to go!

Margaret, Best of luck to a great col. Thanks alot for running with me in P.E. and all that rot! Some day I'll get more than 30 situps! Hope to see you some more this summer! TAURUS Be a good girl and keep up those great grades! You can help me next year with my Geometry! Have fun & be sweet!

The activities within a school represent a variety of interests. Those born under the sign of Taurus are very active just as members of any club must be. Generosity is also a characteristic of Taurus. So each club member must be able to share with others and to respect them if harmony is to exist within the club. Each member must give his time for the good of the organization. He must be well-rounded in order to maintain a required average and to participate in club events. Activities add a special note to the school. They help students learn to work together to achieve a prescribed goal.

Annual Staff

The Annual Staff, consisting of both the editorial staff and the business staff, works diligently throughout the school year in order to publish the Log for the student body at Franklin High School. The business staff is responsible for the selling of ads to local merchants and annuals to the students. The editorial staff is responsible for everything which is inside the covers of the annual itself. Under the direction of Mr. Vess the staff learns to develop their responsibility, originality, imagination, courtesy, tactfulness, and literary and business skills.

Library Club

Under the direction of Mrs. Gadberry, the Library Club works throughout the entire year to improve the Library program in Franklin High School. The members help by aiding other students in the library, helping the librarian at the circulation desk, putting up attractive bulletin boards, and stimulating an interest in reading among the students. The club also encourages an interest in library work as a career; and at the end of each school year, the club members donate something useful to the library.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization which teaches young girls to live better today so that their homes may be better tomorrow. Since the field of home-making is such a broad one, a home economics course offers a great variety of interests. The many varied projects done by the students are directed toward helping its members prepare themselves for the future by developing creativity, individualism, thriftiness, and, most important of all, knowledge.

The Franklin Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America is guided throughout the year by Mrs. Felts and Mrs. Smith. The members participate actively in school and community projects. The Future Business Leaders of America sponsors financial and promotional activities, and each morning the club undertakes the important task of opening and operating the Student Supply Room. Each month the club has meetings with guest speakers or other interesting programs. Along with other club projects the members make bulletin boards for the business classrooms, do typing for various teachers, and serve as guides for all seeking advice on some phase of business.

One of the various courses taught in the Business Department is shorthand, which this girl seems to think is a very enjoyable subject.

The Tri-Hi-Y is an organization of young women striving for a Christian living. The purpose of this club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character. The platform on which the club is built is clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living. Each year the club sponsors the T. B. drive and other projects of service to the community and the school. This year, working closely with the Hi-Y, the clubs were hosts of the Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y District Conference which was held at Franklin High School.

The Hi-Y is a boys' organization which is connected with the local YMCA. It is a Christian organization which is very much like the Tri-Hi-Y club for girls.

As a Christian group the club tries to encourage a cleaner and a more moral way of living. During the school year, under the direction of Mr. Lucas, the members participate in many worthwhile projects. The Hi-Y co-hosted the Tri-Hi-Y, Hi-Y District Conference which was held at this school for the first time. During this conference, their members ran for some of the district offices and one member of the Hi-Y won an office in the district.

Another member won an office at the Model General Assembly. The club has participated in community projects as well as ones which they have worked on at school.

The Varsity Club, which is one of the oldest clubs at Franklin High School, is an honorary athletic society. In order to become a member, it is necessary to have lettered in a varsity sport or cheerleading. Each year the Varsity Club furnishes trophies and plaques for the most valuable player in each of the major varsity sports. The club members also operate the concession stand at all home basketball games.

The Interact Club of Franklin High School is a service organization not only for the high school, but for the community of Franklin as well. In order to become a member in the club, a young man must have the qualities of good character, good scholarship, leadership ability, and trustworthiness. The Interact Club, which is sponsored by Rotary International, has grown to be one of the more active clubs for the young men in Franklin High School. One of the major activities of the club this year was the adoption and support of an underprivileged child in a foreign country. Each month the club sends money in order that this child might have enough food and clothes.

This year for the first time Franklin High School has a Debate Club. The club is sponsored by the Parent Teacher's Association and is directed by Mrs. Johnson. Throughout the year the members have been busy doing much research. The club had their first debate in March after much work. The Debate Club also went to Williamsburg to the Novice Debate Tournament to observe and serve as time keepers.

For the first time Franklin High School has a drama club. It is under the direction of Mr. Clark who has taught them much about drama, acting, and the actual production of a play. The club has worked many long hours learning their lines while others in the club have been busy working on props and publicity.

In the play "Perils of Priscilla" Joe Collier, the villian, kills Gwynn Doughty, a very old school teacher.

These students pretend to be riding in a car in the play "Antic Spring".

LEO

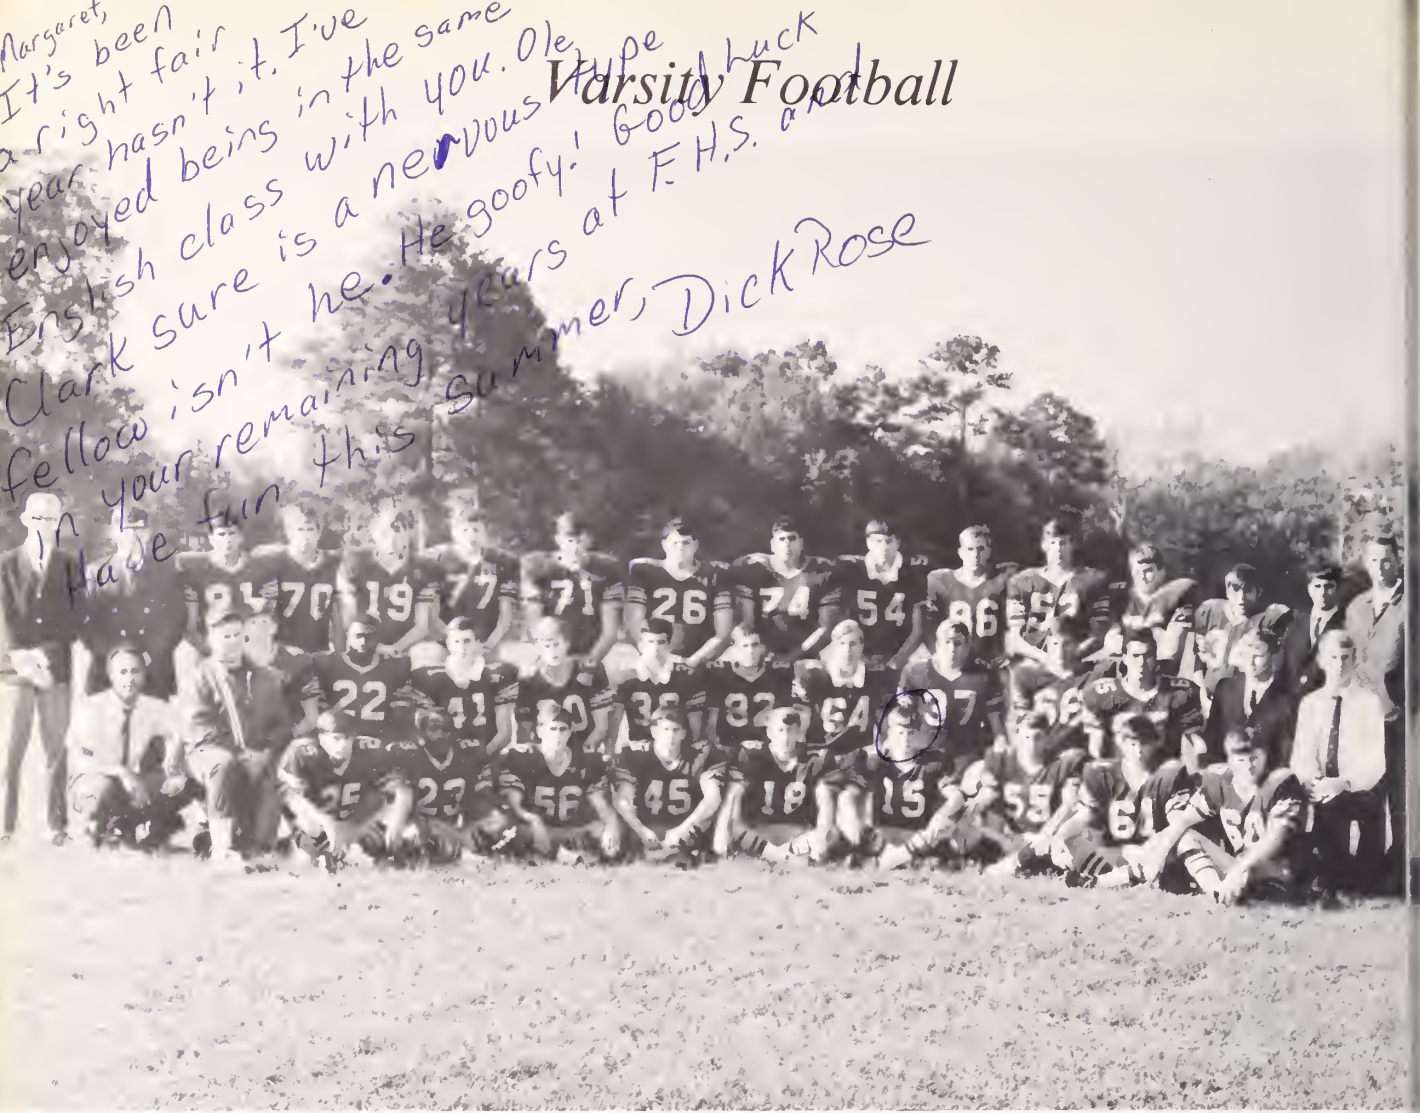

Just as Leos strive to do their best, so must each participant in an athletic event strive to do his best. Athletes are the school leaders who must represent the student body when they are away for games or events. Never giving up, they possess the stamina and endurance necessary to reach their goal. Win or lose, they must have pride in their school. Participation in an athletic event requires much time after school hours. The students involved must be well-rounded to excel in both the academic and athletic program. They must maintain a required average in order to participate in sports events.

YEA TEAM!

Margaret,
 It has been great in P.E. this year. Have a good and time this summer. Be sure to stay as sweet as you are.

LIBRA

Love ya!
 Connie V.

Much is needed to be said about the merchants of Franklin and surrounding cities. Along with many other requests, each year they are called upon to contribute to the publishing of the annual. They are extremely generous, and therefore may be compared to those born under the sign of Libra. Merchants help to bring about a bond between the school and the community. They promote good will and friendship, characteristics of Libra.

Margaret,

You are really a train and you've got the cutest clothes I've ever seen. I know you'll have to help me in Trig next year like you did in Geometry. I hope I can follow in your footsteps. I had a great time at the beach last summer. Maybe I'll see you down there this summer. Don't forget all those pajama parties and my hypnosis. You are a good victim. Have a good time in Drive's Ed. Remember French, Chemistry, Geometry (Tucky Disk cups) and homecom. Have fun this summer and come to see me.

Margaret,

Boy, this has been some year, huh? We had a blast in P.E. with some exceptions (like Sex Ed?) ^{#4}! Best of luck to a real sweet girl who has a quiet but funny personality - Have a nice summer and come see me, O.K.? We'll have to get together for a couple of games of bridge, too. Be good and I'll see you -

Franklin P.T.A. Objectives School Year 1969-1970

To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community.

To raise the standards of home life.

To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.

To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.

To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 1970

OBJECTIVES OF THE STUDENT CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

- To develop in our schools the kind of students who are worthy citizens of the home, the school, the community, the nation, and the world in which they live
- To encourage greater and better cooperation and sharing of responsibilities on the part of students, teachers, and parents
- To help provide a wholesome spiritual, mental, social, and physical school environment
- To assist in providing a program of recreation and social activities, which encourages a wide degree of participation
- To work with the school faculty in promoting better understanding, on the part of both students and parents, in improving the guidance program, particularly in the vocational and educational fields available
- To assist in working on community projects, such as providing food, clothing, and comfort to procure a fuller measure of happiness for the less fortunate members of our society
- To promote good sportsmanship in every phase of school and community activity

Margaret,

Every time I thought
I had done well on a test
I look over at you and there was a big fat 100! Ugh.

That train of yours holds certain success in store.

Have a good summer.

Candy (x)

Hi Margaret,
This has really been a great year. Next year use the numbers and see better. It's a shame I won't be in your French class next year, I'll probably have to live again

Margaret,

I have really enjoyed this year and I'm glad we had some classes together and I hope to see you this summer.
You are a good friend.

Love,

Kathy J.

P.S. Excuse
writing (it's crowded)

Margaret -
if you don't stop talking so much, don't blame what I'm going to do! Stay Sweet!
Love ya,
Susan

Margaret,
Always remember
our 9 real chemistry & French classes! Thanks with my "geometry." Be good & I know success will always be with you. See you this summer
Love,
Sandra D.

Margaret,

Hope to see you more this summer. But if not be good this summer and I will see you next year.

Love ya, Whit

Margaret,
Well the 10th grade
has been a great time.
You should have been in Whip's class with us. Be good and come see me this summer. Don't forget Tricky Dick's class. Love,
Renee

Margaret,
I really do admire your taste in clothes. Especially the one with all the hearts on it.

Hope you've had a great year at F.H.S.
Good luck next year
at and be good this summer. Love ya,

May Dawson

Margaret:
We had fun & French and talking to you is just what you are just to smart. Be extra good and I will see you next year.

Gordon

Margaret,
Best of luck to a sweet girl; To the main of the geometry class with all the right answers, you were better than Mr. Lassiter's key.
Best of luck to you.
Chit

Margaret,
Best of luck to a really nice girl. Always remember the blasts we had in French.
Be good and take care.
Love you
Jen

Margaret,
You're a really great girl. Stay just like you are in the future. Lots of luck.
Darcy

Dear Margaret,
Really enjoyed having lunch with you this year!
Have fun this year and good luck!

Margaret,
It's been a fun English this year. It's been even funner with you Love, Take it easy this summer and have fun Love,
Jesse

Love,
John David

Margaret,
One thing about getting a ride with us - you don't have to worry about being late. Good luck on your exams and I'll see you this summer.
Love ya!
Ellen

Margaret
Don't forget to write me when you think of me next year.
I'm still here some more Please give me some lessons since
I play it so well.
Love
you

Margaret,
we have really had a ball this year, haven't we? You keep up those 100's in Doug's class.

I love you!
Have a great summer
Love you,

Junior-Senior

The Juniors take a break before they continue decorating for the prom.

The ceiling is the first thing that must be put up, and these Juniors are busy taping the streamers to the ropes.

Dancing seems to work up an appetite for Candy and Peter as they are taking advantage of the refreshments.

"Evening

Chet and Nell take time to pose for the camera before entering the prom.

Diane and David are enjoying themselves at the prom doing the Temptation Walk.

Prom Of 1970

Dennis is apparently telling a joke as he chats with Bob and Emily between dances.

This gondolier seems to have really impressed these two juniors.

In Venice

Even the chaperons are enjoying themselves at this happy occasion.

The spotlight now seems to be on everyone.

Intermission is the time for rest and for socializing with friends.

1970 May Ball

The representatives await the result of the contest.

Mr. Davis crowns Dell Young, Queen of the May, and Stephen Hudgins, King.

The King and Queen dance.

Franklin High started the annual May Ball this year. Each grade in school elected two people in their grade whom they wanted to represent them as King and Queen of the May. Voting was carried on for a week by putting money in jars. The results were announced the night of the ball. This year the king and queen came from the senior class.

Music was supplied by the Cerebus.

Other couples enjoy the night.

Graduation

Teresa Cotton
VALEDICTORIAN

Trisha Rawls
SALUTATORIAN

Stephen Hudgins, president of the senior class, gives the welcome.

Dr. Vaughan introduces the graduation guest speaker.

Mr. James A. Sartain inspires the graduates by his speech.

Night

These senior girls anxiously await the beginning of the graduation exercises.

The processional begins.

The class of 1970 was so large that the school auditorium could not seat them all. Therefore, this year the commencement exercises were held in the football stadium.

These girls are celebrating after their graduation.

John Rabil, president of the SCA, receives his diploma.

Epilog

With the procession of each year new faces emerge at Franklin High School. Yet, on each new face the inherent signs of our times — leadership, friendliness, individuality, determination — are unmistakably visible. These faces reflect also the dreams, visions, and ideals that we have seen and known in the past, those that we see and know now, and even those that we shall see and know in the future.

Is a real sweet girl who I enjoyed having in my Phys. class. This year has really been great and I hope you have had as much fun as I have.
Maybe we can be in more classes next year! Be good the summer and take care of yourself. I wish you much success and happiness in your future years!

Love,
Teresa

Margaret,

Had a blast this year in Geometry class.
Have fun this summer and Come back next year as a
